Supervised Clinical Experience

Provide the following information about supervised clinical experience in 2016-17. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(C\)\(iii\), §205\(a\)\(1\)\(C\)\(iv\))

Additional guidance on reporting supervised clinical experience and nonclinical coursework.

Average number of clock hours of supervised clinical experience required prior to student teaching	107
Average number of clock hours required for student teaching	637.5
Average number of clock hours required for mentoring/induction support	744.5
Number of full-time equivalent faculty supervising clinical experience during this academic year	2
Number of adjunct faculty supervising clinical experience during this academic year (IHE and PreK-12 staff)	8
Number of students in supervised clinical experience during this academic year	158

Please provide any additional information about or descriptions of the supervised clinical experiences:

In previous years, this section of the report ONLY included numbers of internship students. This year, however, after reviewing definitions of supervised clinical experiences more closely, the 'number of students' supervised includes all students enrolled in the MAT during Ay2017-2018. All enrolled students have required clinical experiences and the professor for the particular course (before internship) is the supervisor. There is a minimum of 83 days in student teaching. 637.5 hours of student teaching includes a 7.5-hour day that covers the internship participation in planning, lunch, before/after school hours and working in the classroom. Candidates work the same hours as their mentor teachers.

Enrollment

On this page, enter the number of candidates for an initial teaching credential who are enrolled in the initial teacher preparation programs within your institution of higher education (IHE) or organization. Do not report on the total number of students enrolled in the entire IHE. Do not include individuals who currently hold a teaching credential and are seeking additional licenses or endorsements, or individuals preparing for school-based careers other than classroom teachers (e.g., administrators, guidance counselors).

The Department recognizes that in many cases, candidates voluntarily report their race/ethnicity and gender data, and that in some cases, candidates may choose not to report this information. Please report on the race/ethnicity data you have available, though the data may not be complete. It is not expected that the sum of the enrolled students reported by race/ethnicity or by gender will necessarily equal the total number of students enrolled.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the candidates enrolled in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the candidates enrolled in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the candidates enrolled in the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the enrollment data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Enrollment

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled. Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2016-17. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. (§205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\))

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education–Chemistry" category.

Program Completers

On this page, enter the total number of individuals who completed the program in AY 2016-17 and the two prior academic years. If you submitted an IPRC last year, the number of program completers for the two prior academic years are pre-loaded from your prior year's report.

A program completer is a person who has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program. Program completers include all those who are documented as having met such requirements. Documentation may take the form of a degree, institutional certificate, program credential, transcript or other written proof of having met the program's requirements. In applying this definition, the fact that an individual has or has not been recommended to the state for initial certification or licensure may not be used as a criterion for determining who is a program completer.

An individual cannot be classified as both enrolled and as a program completer at the same time. An enrolled individual is not a program completer. Once an individual has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program and becomes a program completer, the individual is no longer classified as enrolled.

After entering the program completers, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

6. Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

UMUC has an advisement department that supports and reminds students about enrollment deadlines and financial aid assistance. Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below: The Teacher Shortage Areas Nationwide Listing (2015) confirms that mathematics, and other STEM categories, are shortage areas for the state of Maryland and across the United States. With national data pointing to shortages across many specialties at the secondary level, UMUC offers a comprehensive certification program, including a particular focus on Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) and a variety of foreign languages. The preparation of highly effective teachers is essential to the academic success of K-12 students in STEM. As a leader in distance education the UMUC Master of Arts Program is in a unique position to prepare qualified teachers.

The University and Department offer respected, accessible and affordable academic online programs to maximize economic and intellectual contributions to meet the needs of students as working adults. Throughout the program students are required to demonstrate content knowledge, content-specific skills, planning and assessment and assure integration of CAEP, MSDE and Specialized Professional Association (SPA) standards. The MAT Program is a clinically-based teacher development program. Every course in the MAT program has at its core a required field experience component where candidates develop and practice their knowledge, skills, and dispositions for working effectively with diverse learners. The focus of the program is on producing candidates who can demonstrate research-based and practice-validated strategies for teaching and learning, and facilitate learning among diverse learners. Candidates have a variety of course assignments and field-based preparations, which provide opportunities for working with diverse students. Students in the MAT Program have an opportunity to work with students in a variety of settings to include conventional and distance learning classrooms, urban and rural schools, and learning communities that include cultural, ethnic, language, and socioeconomic diversity. The Program requires students to successfully complete rural schools, and learning communities that include cultural, ethnic, language, and socioeconomic diversity. The Program requires students to successfully complete and document field experiences in diverse settings. Students are required to have at least three diverse field experiences, with two of those occurring prior to the third course in the program.

UMUC's Department of Education Master of Arts in Teaching Program ((MAT) prepares teacher candidates to use a variety of instructional technology applications. Starting with the first course in the MAT program the teacher candidates begin developing a website to showcase artifacts and develop reflective statements that demonstrate their skills and abilities. The website is organized around the InTASC Standards and submitted as a major project in the internship seminar. Teacher candidates are required to demonstrate the effective use of technology through instructional planning and through their teaching. Teacher candidates are also required to prepare videos of their teaching and critique their pedagogical skills. MAT faculty model the use of technology in their courses and assess candidate abilities to effectively integrate into instruction and utilize technology. During the internship candidates are assessed on their ability to integrate technology to facilitate active learning in their classrooms. Graduates are surveyed about their ability to use technology effectively.

Contextual Information

Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card (see below). The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.

Through its high quality program, the Unit makes teacher education available to candidates for whom face-to-face education is not a realistic or ideal option. The Unit capitalizes on UMUC's unique institutional capacity to reach geographically dispersed individuals who may not otherwise readily access high-quality opportunities for earning teacher certification. The Unit's commitment to education for the working adult learner crosses boundaries of brick and mortar, state, continent and time zone to educate admitted candidates of any age, background, or geographic location in an "anytime, anywhere" interactive format. The Unit's approach to "anytime, anywhere" learning is accessible, cutting edge and highly personalized for individual, as well as collective, candidate growth and development. Every course in the MAT program is enhanced through extensive field and clinical experiences in which the teacher candidates observe, tutor, and teach in secondary classrooms. Candidates are required to observe within classrooms in the geographic areas where they reside to demonstrate research-based strategies for effective teaching and learning. Important learning also takes place through the candidate's field experiences – with 144 hours of clinical experience required in the first four courses, and 520 hours in the internship. Candidates in the Unit are encouraged to reach beyond the typical online classroom of UMUC's Learning Management System and its discussion boards and study group areas, and communicate and collaborate through blogs, wikis, social networking sites, virtual learning environments and simulated learning activities. By using such tools to transform their own learning, candidates are able to apply knowledge to their own classrooms and engage preK-12 students in new ways with academic content and one another. By meeting in a virtual world, students can feel as if they are in the same room with others who may be many miles away.
